

Jasper's New Bed

Carolea Williams
illustrated by Jose Ramos

Jasper's New Bed

Carolea Williams
illustrated by Jose Ramos

When Jasper was a puppy, his bed was a perfect fit.
Round and red and cozy—the perfect place to sleep or sit.

But now that Jasper has grown up, he needs a bigger bed.
One that will fit all of him from his tail up to his head.

Green beds, blue beds, yellow beds, and more.
So many beds to choose from at the pet store.

Round beds, square beds, rectangular beds, too.
With so many choices, what will Jasper do?

Jasper makes a game of it and sorts the beds by shape.

He is hoping that this plan will help him know which one to take.

Then Jasper has a new idea and gives each color its own pile.

But all this work has made him tired, so he decides to nap a while.

It's a basket full of balls in every color and every size!

Could you sort the balls? Would you know what to do?
When Jasper sorted beds, did he give you a clue?

frogstreet

FSPK6210

www.frogstreet.com

© 2016 Frog Street Press, Inc.

All rights reserved. No part of this book may be reproduced or utilized in any form or by any means, electronic or mechanical including photocopying, recording, or by any information storage and retrieval system without permission in writing from the publisher.

Printed in China

ISBN 978-1-63237-226-0

